

The CCS Group of Companies, which includes the Training Center PR-Managers and the Center of Communications Strategies,
Welcomes you to our site!

Dear colleagues!

We would like to bring to your attention information about the educational and consulting activity of the CCS Group of Companies which are carried out under the slogan: «From reality - to the most real! A realibus - ad realiora!». We strive to ensure that our partners and clients based on our support has continuously evolved in communication and information sphere. That is why in 1991 we established the first structure in Russia, learning Russian PR specialists, and created a non-state educational institution the Training Center PR-Managers under the Russian Public Relations Association (RPRA). And this was necessary because studies, professional training and self-development for a real PR-professional – mandatory 24-hour and creative process.

In this educational company the first Russian public relations practitioners and experts were trained. The founder and the permanent head of the educational Center is the candidate of sociological sciences Elena Yurieva, who was also the executive director Russian Public Relations Association (RPRA) from 1991 to 2002 years. In 2002 Elena Yurieva created the Center of Communications Strategies to establish consulting programs. Today both structures are included in the CCS Group of Companies, which offer qualitative and complex servicing in the fields of PR-education and PR-consulting.

Our achievements over 23 years of work in the Russian sector of developing public relations include:

- ≡ training more than 4,900 Russian and foreign PR-specialists;
- ≡ organizing and leading more than 70 international, Russian and regional scientific-practical conferences on the development of public relations;
- ≡ developing and implementing more than 290 unique specialized seminars and training sessions;
- ≡ publishing 12 books and more 90 articles on the development of public relations and information work, preparing thematic methodical texts and manuals by Elena Yurieva and exclusive authors - teachers and experts CCS;
- ≡ constantly developing new educational and consulting programs.

Overall, we are very proud of our successes and achievements!

The General Director of the CCS Group of Companies,

Elena Yurieva

From the history of the Training Center PR-Managers

Since 1991

The Training Center PR-Managers was the first branch educational structure in Russia founded in 1991 at the Russian Public Relations Association (RPRA) by Elena Yurieva, candidate of sociological sciences and executive director of RPRA from 1991 to 2002. At that time the area of public relations had only just come into existence in the new Russia. On the basis of the RPRA the first domestic PR-experts were consolidated.

The Training Center PR-Managers provides services in the field of education. We became the first educational structure in Russia that trains specialists and experts working with information and in the field of management, marketing, advertising, PR and copywriting.

The Training Center PR-Managers was created at RPRA to solve a major problem – the qualitative training and retraining of talented humanitarians, who would like become the first Russian specialists in the public communications. The system of further education at the Center gave to journalists, economists, philologists, historians and many other professionals, wishing to master a new and perspective job, their first insight into PR-technologies in the modern world.

Today training one of the most prestigious jobs in Russia is still relevant. And we continue to successfully prepare highly skilled communicators!

Clients and partners CCS Group of Companies

Feedback of participants and client and partner reviews on the work of the CCS Group of Companies

Maxim Shub, Shell Exploration and Production Services: «The strongest aspects of the CCS seminar on media planning for the heads of public relations departments from Shell in Russia, was the involvement of practicing professionals, thorough preparation of the thematic program that specifically targeted the problems facing the heads of Shell’s communications, communications with mass-media and media planning departments. The methodical and information materials prepared by the Center provided practical value for experts of our concern as a basis for the development of media plans for advertising campaigns».

Larissa Inozemtseva, MARS: «... a well balanced program, a useful mix of theoretical material and practical work. The teachers were not simply professionals in the area, but also remarkable individuals in themselves and interesting to talk to. A fortunate group selection for the program can enrich the exchange of opinions and experience of the participants; in our group that was exactly how it turned out. Many thanks to organizers!».

Elena Ivchenko, Norilsk Nickel: «The program was fantastic. It systematized available knowledge, but I also learned a lot of new things that, undoubtedly, will be useful in work. An enormous volume of necessary and helpful information was given. The organization of the seminar was excellent, as was the teaching structure. There was an excellent combination of the content and methodology of the lectures. The training session was especially memorable. A huge thank you! I will definitely tell my colleagues about your Center, and advise them to come to you to learn».

Mikhail Barkovets, Nina Dementsova, Center of public relations INTERROS: «Training in Germany provided an excellent opportunity to systematize and fix our knowledge in the field of public relations and also receive the practical skills necessary to work effectively. There was an excellent theoretical base. Practical exercises, meetings with the heads of leading German corporations, PR-agencies and mass-media helped to master the material more fully. The main thing now is to create a model of work on the basis of the knowledge gained. There was no time for weariness as everything passed in one breath. We were also very lucky in terms of our group. We met with some interesting people with whom it will be a pleasure to communicate in future!».

Olga Kavtaskina, AVTOVAZ: «...everyone, working in the sphere of communications needs to take a course like this. Knowledge of the laws of communications and psychology improves professional growth...».

Oksana Kratko, Western-Siberian Metallurgical Combine: «... I thank the organizers and teachers of the seminar 'Expert public relations' for making us welcome and their interest, as well as their friendliness. This course helped our entire group: some raised their level of knowledge; others have confidently set off along the path of the 'PR professional'...».

Anna Menzhulina, "UGRA", Khanty-Mansiysk : «... very qualified courses, giving systematic knowledge of PR and an opportunity to familiarize yourself with the methods of leading experts in the field of public relations. I'm certain that the knowledge I gained can be put into practice...».
